ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

CONFERENCE SUMMARY

In an era of rapid technological advancements, legal systems face unprecedented challenges that demand interdisciplinary solutions. The VIII International Scientific and Practical Conference "CURRENT TRENDS IN LAW: SECURITY, COMMUNICATION, AND REGULATION IN THE MODERN WORLD (SEITE 2025)" aims to foster dialogue among legal scholars, practitioners, and policymakers to explore pressing issues in contemporary legal practice.

The conference will bring together experts in law, security, public administration, and communication to discuss how regulatory frameworks adapt to global transformations. Through plenary sessions, expert panels, and interactive discussions, participants will examine legal responses to modern challenges, from international security and digital transformation to legal communication strategies and governance.

This event provides an opportunity for a high-level academic exchange, enhancing collaboration between European institutions and global stakeholders while addressing the evolving landscape of law in the 21st century.
